THEATRICAL

A scene in "The Spoilers," the stirring Rex Beach drama at the Empress

THE FOLLY.

The new vaudeville bill at the Folly this afternoon drew a large crowd. The program includes four vaudeville acts and six reels of feature and comedy pictures. The bill will run till Sunday, when there will be another complete change. The acts include the following: Smith and Warnock in a comedy creation, "How Time Does Fly"; Knight and Ransom in a farce comedy, "Burning a Joker"; Joe Desford, who is good enough in novelty lifting and balancing; Belmont and Layton, comely novelty entertainers.

THE EMPRESS.

"Go ahead," said W. N. Seitz, when it was decided to film "The Spoilers." "Use what money and time are required to make the supreme American photoplay. Spare nothing." The result is shown in the nine-reel drama being shown at the Empress today and tomorrow. Rex Beach's novel has been reproduced in a way impossible to any other form of art. It is vital from start to finish. Love, courage, determination, audacity, deceit, brutality and hand to hand encounters by desperate men for desperate measures, corrupt swindlers and the law of primal rights in fierce clash—these are some of the elements that keep the suspense at high tension from start to finish. There are nine reels, hundreds of scenes and thousands of incidents graphically portrayed. The acting is vigorous, lifelike and tells a vital American story in a tremendously vital way. "The Spoilers" is a story native to the soil of these states. It is typically American. It covers a period in the development of the Puget Sound country and Alaska wherein adventures of all sorts, noble and otherwise, struggled with savage tenacity for fortune. It is not retold in moving picture form with a fidelity to detail that is truly satisfactory. The film drama is intensely interesting.

LILLIAN RUSSELL IS A MOVIE ACTRESS

Lillian Russell is one of the best known women before the public today. She holds a unique position in the esteem of the nation. For years she has been a leader of the stage, and as a beauty her fame has been of such long duration that members of the time when they are college students, eagerly looked forward to seeing Lillian Russell today and tomorrow. Rex Beach's novel has been reproduced in a way impossible to any other form of art. It is vital from start to finish. Love, courage, determination, audacity, deceit, brutality and hand to hand encounters by desperate men for desperate measures, corrupt swindlers and the law of primal rights in fierce clash—these are some of the elements that keep the suspense at high tension from start to finish. LILLIAN RUSSELL

The Most Beautiful and Famous of Stars. Celebrated as She Appears in The World Film Corporation's Portmouthing Motion Picture "Wildfire"

The play was originally produced by Joseph Brooks, in Cincinnati, the audience at the opening night was a bit disconcerted, because it had come prepared to see a musical play, but saw nothing of the sort in "Wildfire." She was acting a character, and she made the audience realize that she was an actress of distinction. They were not disappointed when the final curtain fell. That first performance marked her entrance to the legitimate stage. That packed audience in Cincinnati was the forerunner of a long series of similar audiences that gathered wherever Lillian Russell in "Wildfire" was announced. When her tour was completed Miss Russell decided to retire to private life, but she received so many requests from her admirers all over the United States and Canada, who were anxious to see her in "Wildfire" that she was receptive to the idea of making a motion picture from the play when the plan was suggested to her by General Manager Lewis J. Selznick of the World Film Corporation. To him is due the credit of placing Miss Russell under contract, and her legions of admirers will welcome the opportunity of seeing her again.
